

A compass rose with a circle in the center. The letter 'N' is written vertically inside the circle, pointing towards the top. A line starts from the center and extends towards the top-right, passing through the circle. This line represents a bearing of 045 degrees.

